One of the rugged “Fun Series” of two-way radio models, the Motorola Talkabout® T4500 offers an up to 2-mile range*—ideal for indoor or outdoor communications for families that want to keep in touch.

Small but Rugged

The small size—under 5 ounces, even with batteries—is ideal for small hands and is easy to pack on those family trips. Yet the Talkabout® T4500’s rugged housing is strong enough to take the everyday bumps and bruises of being handled by children.

Keeping in Touch

The Talkabout® T4500 is designed to enable parents and kids to keep in touch in the neighborhood, at the park or in other recreational areas.

Full-Featured Privacy

With 22 available frequencies and the standard scan feature, this is no child’s toy—it’s a fully-functional, quality communication tool that is ideal for active families.

Power to Spare

These radios are sold in pairs—just drop in three AAA batteries and you’re ready to start communicating.

Pricing

Manufacturer’s Suggested Retail Price is $29.99 per pair.
